

Mercantili$m

A system where one country acquires a lot of gold by exporting (more expensive) manufactured goods to its colonies and other countries, while buying (cheaper) natural resources from those same areas. Two main policies were required in the mercantilist system: tariffs on manufactured goods from other countries, and the use of colonies to supply raw materials to, and purchase manufactured goods from, the mother country.

